The American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Seattle Section Younger Member Forum (YMF) has been selected to host the Western Region Younger Member Council (WRYMC) from February 9-10, 2024, as part of ASCE’s annual Multi-Region Leadership Conference (MRLC)!

WRYMC consists of early career civil engineering professionals 35 and under, living in the western region of the United States, which includes Alaska, Arizona, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, California, the Canadian Provinces of Alberta and British Columbia as well as the Northwest Territories and the Yukon. The WRYMC portion of the MRLC is an annual session where Younger Members meet and exchange ideas through events such as networking sessions, technical talks, leadership workshops, and keynote speeches from prominent members of ASCE and the civil engineering community. Needless to say, the conference will host a large cohort of young civil engineers with diverse backgrounds and professional experience!

We are unable to host such an impactful event without the generous financial support of sponsors like you. Not only will you be contributing to a memorable experience for these young professionals, but you will also be infusing the local economy and exposing the area to a large group of young engineers, in addition to strengthening the civil engineering community in the Greater Seattle Area. Additionally, our sessions will give you the opportunity to network with a group of over 400 talented civil engineers from the Greater Seattle Area and beyond, with the prospect of recruiting motivated young engineers with a passion for the profession.

Please see the attached donation form, which details the various sponsorship levels and the associated benefits. If you have any questions about the conference, or need additional information on the sponsorship program, please do not hesitate to reach out to us at conferences@seattleasce.org.

Thank you in advance for your support!

Sincerely,

Romulos P. Ragudos, Jr & Bobbie Gilmour
WRYMC Conference Co-Chairs
